CONGRESSMAN BENNETT will get the Republican Congressional nomination without opposition. Robert Buckler and O. F. Byron having withdrawn.

AT the unusually affectionate meeting last week between Roosevelt and Taft at Beverly, Mass., where they were at the Lodge went purposely to see Taft. Insurgent stock fell off 750 points out of 1,000.

ROOSEVELT'S first political action since his return was an effort to have the New York legislature enact the direct primaries bill. The legislature refused by defeating the bill 80 to 63. But he will not let a little thing like that get him back.

MELVILLE W. FULLER, Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court; John W. Daniel, of Virginia, and S. D. McHenry, of Louisiana, the two latter U. S. Senators, and all three Democrats, have answered the last call the past week. They were all great intellectually.

WHEN he was at Montreal, Canada, on his return from Europe, Bryan said "Much depends" on whether he should be a Senator or a Presidential candidate. It is probable that he will not allow any Democrat a chance to become President, and it ought to be plain that he can't be elected.

ANOTHER pugilistic idol fell last week. John J. Jeffries, of color, whipped Jim Jeffries, of white, in the fifteenth round at Reno, Nevada, July 4. The prize-fighter that goes into the ring once too often never fails to get whipped. John J. Sullivan was thought to be invincible, and so was Jeffries.
